Waste reducing product life

HexArmor® is an exclusive licensee of SuperFabric® brand material. SuperFabric® technology is designed to prevent lacerations and slashes from reaching the skin. It's unique qualities also give it a much longer product life than the competition.

Protecting people. Protecting planet.

Protecting people is our mission—and protecting the planet is the natural continuation of this mission—treating people, society, and the earth responsibly. We've created a 'protecting planet' label that offers information about our sustainability initiatives: from resource-saving PPE materials to innovative measures in our manufacturing processes.

Creating durable products

Designed with SuperFabric® brand material, industry-leading durability increases product longevity 20 times longer than traditional knit sleeves and reduces the need for excessive replacement
