Ed Thompson is the CEO and founder of Uptimize – a unique corporate training platform that helps organizations attract, hire and retain talent that thinks differently. Uptimize works globally with organizations like Salesforce, Google, Deloitte and IBM, building robust and impactful neurodiversity at work programs.

Ed has also become a frequent speaker on the topic of neurodiversity in the workplace and is currently writing a book on the subject.